Which Would You Rather?
Eat 5 Brussel sprouts or eat 10 mushrooms?

Zoo Snooze

Rms 8 ,9, 10 and 11 have just gone to Zoo Snooze.

For those who don't already know, the Zoo Snooze is when you go to the zoo and stay a night. During that time you walk around the zoo and go behind the scenes.

Zoo snooze is something that happens every year, for the year 1/2s. I personally have been and enjoyed it a lot. So if you get a chance to go you should and if you have already gone you will probably agree with me.

Dear Kid Know-It-All

I've been having trouble with my bestie. She will always find an excuse to show off! The other day she was spreading rumours and she said her work was the best. She tries to include me in the bragging but I don't want to be included! What do I do?

Question

From, Un-solved Puzzle

Unsolved Puzzle

It's really hard when your friends do this . You don't want to hurt her feelings but you can't be a part of it anymore. To keep her friendship I'd just kind of say no to the things you don't want to do, or suggest different things. If this doesn't work it's not too hard to make new friends. I'm not saying block your friend out, just give yourself some space from each other.

Answer

Kid Know-It-All

Hello again. Welcome Back! I want to thank everyone who put their letter in the box. Here we have the lucky letters that made it into Ed's. if your letter didn't make it in just re-write it and drop it in. You might make it this time! Remember to drop your letters in my box at the front office. (Don't be scared to ask where it is.)

Hey Kid-Know-It-All!

For every question the teacher asks, I know the answer, but she doesn't pick me! I'm always volunteering but no one picks ME! WHY!?

Regards,

Unnoticed

Question

Hi Unnoticed,

I'm surprised you know every answer! I understand, but you need to know she's teaching the whole class. The teacher is mostly picking on the students that aren't listening, so you now know you're listening well!

Ed's Reviews

Moana Sails to Fame

Is anyone dying to see a movie, new or old, but don't know whether it's worth your time and money? Well die no more, because here at Ed's Reviews we will be reviewing books and movies, whether being fresh in the library or old in the film archives, we will review it. We will review anything!

Issue 1: Moana

By Walt Disney Studios

Music by: Lin-Manuel Miranda, Opetia Foa'i and Mark Mancina

Starring: Auli'i Cravalho as Moana, Dwayne Johnson as Maui, Jemaine Clement as Tamatoa and more

Directed by: Ron Clements, John Musker, Chris Williams and Don Hall

Moana is a movie made by Walt Disney Studios about a young, teen girl who journeys across the ocean to save the world from eternal death. The film starts off on an island in the South Pacific, but most of the film is set on a boat in the middle of the ocean.

The script writers and directors were very creative with the plot of the film by making the audience entertained by the events of the film, even while stuck in the middle of the ocean. They captured the audience's hearts in moments other than death scenes.

All of the backing tracks in the film were very appropriate to the scene and sounded absolutely beautiful. When a character sang a song, the song would suit the character's personality very well, and also would get that song stuck in the viewer's head for at the least a week (probably a couple of years!).

Now getting to the best part which were the visual effects. The visual effects in this movie were absolutely amazing, the hair and water actually looked like real water and Disney actually created their own animating program called Splash for animating lava and water. In multiple scenes there are many layers of animation and there is even an animation of a 2D character on a 3D object which moves.

To conclude this review, I believe that this movie will definitely be worth your money and time and I give this movie 4/5 stars.
